

Exercise: Typesetting a Quiz

July 23, 2014

Your boss at the University of Southern North Dakota at Hoople, Prof. Etaoin Shrdlu, has been tasked by the department chair with preparing a diagnostic quiz on mathematics for all entering students. Prof. Shrdlu has handwritten a number of questions, but not knowing L<sup>A</sup>T<sub>E</sub>X has come to you for help in typesetting a professional-looking quiz.

As you typeset Prof. Shrdlu's quiz, you should keep in mind the following points:

- You should allow a reasonable amount of blank space in which students can answer the questions.
- The quiz should include a blank space for the student's name.
- The quiz should state somewhere that students will have 1 hour to complete the quiz, and that no books or notes are allowed. It should also state that students are allowed to use a scientific calculator.
- At the end of the quiz, you should include the USNDH Honor Pledge, along with space for a signature:

Upon my honor, I hereby affirm that I have abided by all the rules of this course and of the University of Southern North Dakota at Hoople in the completion of this quiz, and that I have neither received nor given any unauthorized assistance.
